FINDS TOO MUCH TECHNIC IN ART

Messer Tells Corcoran Pupils
Art Is Passing Through Critical Period.

PAST LAWS STILL GOOD

Apparent that Great Part of Work Is in Incompetent Hands—Student Prizes Awarded.

Art in America is passing through a critical period, a period in which our artists have placed too much importance in technical accomplishment, E. C. Messer declared last night in addressing a large gathering of Washington art lovers at the Corcoran gallery. Mr. Messer's address followed the presentation of medals to the pupils of the Corcoran School of Art. "It is a school training that establishes the supremacy of the work," said Mr. Messer, who is principal of the school. "We are now at a somewhat critical period in our art experiences. It is beginning to be recognized that the pyrotechnics of technique do not satisfy the man who thinks. There is an unrest evident that cannot be ignored. Matter has had its day, now mind asserts itself."

Mr. Messer said the foremen of new ideas now are apt to be recruited from the ranks of the intellectually unemployed. "Trained minds," he said, have been working in school grooves, and are not easily diverted into new channels of thought.

Work in Incompetent Hands.
"I do not mean to say," he went on, "that all these innovators are of the class above spoken of, but it is apparent that a great mass of the work that is meant to embody older modern ideas is in incompetent hands."

Mr. Messer scorned the idea that the principles of the past do not apply to present conditions. "The modern artist," he said, "has interested himself in material phenomena that made no appeal to the old masters. The laws of light have been too much investigated, but have suffered no change."

Gen. John M. Wilson, U. S. A., retired, presided and awarded the prizes. Those who received awards were: Miss Edna De Neale; honorable mention, Miss Corinne Cunningham; composition class—silver medal, Miss Corinne Cunningham; honorable mention, Abraham Rattner and water color class—silver medal, Miss Inez Demont; honorable mention, Mrs. Myron D. Cole.

The jury on awards was composed of C. Y. Turner, chairman; S. Edwin Whitehead, and Thomas C. Corcoran.

U. S. NOT READY FOR LATIN TRADE

Dr. Swiggett Says Absence of Spanish Tongue Injures
Us Commercially.

FEW PEOPLE STUDY IT

Athenum Holds May Meeting—Will Devote Winter to Studying Customs of Our Southern Neighbors.

"Business men of the United States are ill-prepared to engage in trade with other American republics until there is given in our schools and colleges the opportunity to acquire the larger vantage of an international viewpoint, based on knowledge of the commercial languages of the world," declared Dr. Glen Levin Swiggett, secretary of the second Pan-American Scientific Congress, professor of romance languages in the University of Tennessee, and delegate to the Pan-American Financial Conference, in an address on "The Status of Spanish in the United States" at the May meeting of the Spanish-American Athenum at the New Willard last night.

"Among the commercial languages," said Dr. Swiggett, "none offers a greater advantage to American business than the study of Spanish, that language spoken in our sister republics to the south of us." Dr. Swiggett pointed out that about 50,000,000 persons speak Spanish today and that of the romance languages it is the most universally used in the University of the Americas. He said, "In a total school attendance of nearly 2,000,000, there are only about 40,000 students now studying Spanish. In a list of 45 business schools only thirty-three offer Spanish."

Bishop Charles Warren Currier, president of the Athenum, presided. Lincoln G. Valentine, a student of Latin-American affairs, delivered an address in Spanish on "The Pan-American Ideal." Senora dona Rosario Munoz de Morillon and Wilbur Stutz gave a dance. "Las Sevillanas," accompanied by Miss Irene Hardesty. Senora Morrison also recited. Senora Gustavo Guerra sang a solo. Mrs. Jennie O. Berlin, secretary, general of the Athenum, gave a brief address, announcing that the society will devote each of the fall and winter months to the study of the history, music, and customs of one of the Latin-American states.

The reception committee was composed of Dr. L. G. Anderson, Senor Don E. M. Amores, Miss Heloise Brainerd, Senor Don Jose Coronado, Mark F. Finley, Jr., Mrs. Edith Newman, Walter Scott Penick, Mrs. D. C. Presler, Harry O. Sandberg, and Harry W. Van Dyke.

SCOUTS TO COMPETE IN DRESSING RACE

Lippincott Pulls Tendon in 100-yard
Dash—Hilltoppers Fail to Show.

Annual field day will be participated in by more than 50 local Boy Scouts at Potomac Park today. The program of thirteen events will start at 9 o'clock this morning and continue until the early part of the afternoon.

A cup will be awarded to the troop winning the greatest number of points in the athletic events and a plaque will be presented to the troop excelling in purely scout competitions.

One of the most interesting events will be a dressing race, in which 300 scouts will take place. At the sound of a bugle the boys will place their hats on the ground, advance three paces and take off their coat, advance three more paces and remove one leggin, take three additional paces and discard the other leggin, and then take five steps and face about. At a given signal they will start back and the one who reaches the starting place first fully dressed will win.

To reach the athletic field the scouts have been directed to take the Bureau and Engraving cars, cross the bridge near the building, walk under the railroad tracks and then travel a short distance.

WELLER WANTS GOVERNORSHIP.

Will Be Candidate for Maryland
Office, He Announces.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Md., May 28.—O. E. Weller, chairman of the State roads commission, announced tonight that he is a candidate for governor of Maryland. The announcement followed a conference with former Senator William F. Jackson, Republican National Committeeman from Maryland, and regarded as the leader of the party in the State.

It is regarded almost as a certainty that Mr. Weller will receive the endorsement and support of the party leaders throughout the State. Among these are Col. Edward C. Carrington and Representative Sydney E. Mudd, Jr. It was expected that no decision would be reached by Mr. Weller until after the return of Gov. Goldsborough from the Panama-Pacific Exposition, but developments reached a point where it became necessary for Mr. Weller to state whether he was a candidate. A telegram probably will be sent Gov. Goldsborough informing him of the situation and expressing the hope that he will be in accord with the candidacy.

PALABA'S LIFEBOATS SAFE.

Company's Attorneys Defend Equipment of Liner Sunk by "Sub."
London, May 28.—Imputations that the lifeboats of the British steamship Palaba, which was sunk by a German submarine, were unworthy were denied by counsel representing the shipowners when Lord Mersey's inquiry was resumed today. Lord Mersey intimated that judgment would not be rendered until after the Lusitania inquiry had been held. Leon Thrasher, an American, lost his life on the Palaba.
